2019 Summer School in Logic and Formal Epistemology

The Department of Philosophy at Carnegie Mellon University will hold a three-week summer school in logic and formal epistemology for promising undergraduates in philosophy, mathematics, computer science, linguistics, economics, and other sciences. The goals are to introduce promising students to cross-disciplinary fields of research at an early stage in their career; and forge lasting links between the various disciplines.

This year, the summer school will be held from June 3rd – June 21st on the campus of Carnegie Mellon University. Tuition and accommodations are free.

Week 1: June 3 – June 7	Instructor: Prof. Jeremy Avigad Title: Logic and Interactive Theorem Proving
Week 2: June 10 – June 14	Instructors: Prof. Adam Bjorndahl & Prof. Teddy Seidenfeld Title: Introduction to Epistemic Logic and the Probability of Consensus
Week 3: June 17 – June 21	Instructors: Prof. Clark Glymour & Prof. Kun Zhang Title: Causation and Computation
